Along with the polo match, the event includes a cocktail hour, a 3-course lunch, an exclusive fashion show, and concludes with an invite-only NFT afterparty. The guestlist includes top-notch VCs, media, celebrities and politicians, making the Crypto Polo Cup a highly sought-after event for sponsors and up-and-coming blockchain brands.

The invite-only event will be hosted by Luna PR, an award-winning public relations and marketing agency that has worked with over 600 crypto and blockchain projects globally.

"The purpose of the event is to connect people from traditional businesses and the web3 world, where ideas and innovation can spring to life while enjoying the common denominator of polo," says Nikita Sachdev, founder of Luna PR.
